

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

Drawing on our vast professional services experience, Cooksey has worked with Weil's Dallas office for more than a decade, strategically guiding the firm's regional business development and marketing efforts. Through a multi-pronged approach, Cooksey has generated a wealth of positive media coverage about the firm and its attorneys, secured prominent awards and honors for the firm, its attorneys and clients, mapped out a high-impact community relations program, and helped the firm plan and execute one-of-a-kind client entertainment and legal education events.

As a result, Weil has gained significantly greater visibility throughout the Dallas area and Southwest, frequently getting its name on the short list of firms considered for companies' and private equity firms' most critical legal matters.

